RT Environmental Services, a new member to CSHEMA, can assist you in maintaining compliance with EPA, DEP and OSHA programs.

The EPA has instituted the Compliance Assistance Initiative for colleges and universities. The laws that govern schools can be challenging for both large and small schools to comply with.

RT provides an experienced cost-effective audit team to assess your campus which will perform the following:

Two environmental professionals experienced in audits and federal and state environmental regulations and permit applications will visit and inspect the campus.

We will review existing environmental documents to determine any areas in need of attention, based upon current regulations.

Areas in need of attention will be clearly identified and prioritized. In addition, our professionals will provide recommendations and a schedule implementation plan. Where feasible, cost estimates can also be provided.

Potential Problem Areas for many campuses:

- Air Quality Problems
- Storm Water Runoff
- Waste Water Discharge
- Underground Storage Tanks
- Lead abatement
- Asbestos Containing Materials
- Sewage Treatment Facility

- Safety for outside Contractors & Visitors
- Federal and State Spill Contingency Plans
- Storage or Disposal of Unused Chemicals

Why have RT Environmental Services come to your campus?

The reason is simple, as your campus grows and changes, your compliance can quickly become challenged. If you have introduced new technology, new projects, renovations or new buildings, experienced employee turnover, it is likely that environmental or safety issues have arisen. In addition, it is the desire of many schools to present themselves as leaders in environmental responsibility.

The recent Wisconsin court decision on safety fall protection creates a new standard of care. Facility managers should now have a safety program for visitors and outside contractors!
