

DISPUTE OVER MINED URANIUM AT 19 SITES

El Paso Natural Gas mined uranium at 19 mines on the Navajo Reservation and the company filed suit against the United States claiming that the federal government is liable for remediation under CERCLA as an owner, operator and arranger. The dispute is similar to one in a case known as Chevron Mining.

Several respected lawyers view the case (which applied CERCLA liability), as a win for the mining industry because CERCLA liability can be cast broadly, capturing virtually everyone connected with the property, mine and/or the contamination.
