NJ WATER PRIVATIZATION BILL WOULD REMOVE
PUBLIC VOTE REQUIREMENT

A bill fast-tracking sale of public water systems into private hands was approved by the state Senate in late December, and was sent to Gov. Chris Christie's desk.

The Water Infrastructure Protection Act, would allow local governments to sell public water systems without a referendum.

The bill, which was introduced in September, drew opposition from a wide variety of groups.

Proponents said the bill would get private investment into public infrastructure which has gone neglected for years.

It was also passed by the Assembly in December.

New Jersey's infrastructure needs attention. Perhaps this is the best way to move forward as infrastructure neglect has gone on too long.
